A person is running on a beach towards the ocean at sunset. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a strong silhouette of the runner and a long, clear reflection on the wet sand. The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and blue. The entire image is framed by a thin white border with decorative corner pieces.

Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize? Run in such a way as to get the prize.

PROTECT YOUR VISION FROM MISCARRIAGE

by Chaplain Dr. Euvonka Farabee

Have you ever been so excited about a business or ministry idea that you could not wait to share your excitement, and details, with someone in your family, or, a close friend? You hoped they would share your enthusiasm, but instead, you were met with apathy, doubt, or major discouragement: "You've never done something like that before. How do you expect to pull it off?" "That is going to cost millions of dollars. Why don't you come up with something more realistic?" "No one has ever done that before. It will never work." "Didn't you learn your lesson with that last business you tried? Why don't you see if you can get promoted on your job so that you can make stable money that

If you've ever shared your heart with people who are important to you, and were met with these responses, or similar ones, you are not alone. Sharing your vision with the wrong crowd can knock the wind out of your sails. It is common to misjudge the readiness of the people we care for because our love for them can cloud our line of sight to discern where they are in their mental, emotional and spiritual maturity.

Although, it is possible that there are individuals who might be jealous or envious of what you carry as a visionary and a leader, and want to interfere with your progress, I tend to find that many that speak death to your hopes and dreams don't want to hurt you.

They simply have limiting beliefs and a narrow world view that blocks their ability to see beyond what is necessary to achieve greatness, not only for you, but for themselves. It is not personal. They just haven't done the work, yet. Their lack of intent does not change the fact that their vocalized unbelief can be detrimental to your progress, if you are not careful.

Practice discussing your vision with those who need to know, and no one else. Who needs to know? When you think about this, you will probably find that the list is very short, and it is typically comprised of entrepreneurial and life coaches, instructors, mentors, a knowledgeable and trustworthy friend, or two, and someone who knows how to confidentiality get a prayer through.

As you walk out the vision, this list will conservatively expand to include people who are directly involved with carrying the dream forward.

During this season, you might learn that a person in which you have shared your details and processes, is not as ready as you thought. Maybe they don't understand the need for the sacrifices that you are making ... or how long it should be taking. Maybe they don't possess the mindset required to adequately support you along your journey.

Whatever the reason, don't internalize their sentiments. People can't give you what they don't have. Don't initiate discussions regarding your plans in the future. If they do, thank them for their interest in your updates and generalize your responses.

If you had a newborn infant, you would not put him in the arms of just anyone who is willing and eager to hold him. You would take care in selecting who is allowed the privilege of handling your precious gift

Likewise, when it comes to your vision, you must use wisdom to protect and nurture the dream that God has impregnated within you. He will surely see that it comes to fruition, healthy and strong.

"The wise lay up knowledge, but the mouth of a fool brings ruin near." - Proverbs 10:14

Kids corner

Now that you're back in school I'm pretty sure you have gotten a few assignments. If not your 1st project you might be thinking, "Hey, I have the whole year, even if I mess up now I can do better later," so you wind up procrastinating and not getting the assignment done.

Procrastinating is when you don't do things that you need to get done.

When you procrastinate you end up losing sleep, not remembering things, you fall behind, your grades drop, you get into more trouble and you begin to lose privileges, phone, iPad, TV, or games.

Levels of procrastination

1. Non-procrastinator - does work every day, everything is organized at school, at home, and in their backpacks.

2. The night before procrastinator - crams all their homework into one night and study for the test. Start to panic, get angry, and rushes.

3. The day of procrastinator - wake up with anxiety breathing hard. They are irritated and search the internet or ask a friend to use their work, cheat or copy word for word what someone else said, and turn their work in. Work is sloppy and if you have a test you end up looking at others' papers for answers or having a cheat sheet.

4. Super Slacker procrastinator - hasn't done anything for a couple of weeks. Homework piles up and gets stuffed and balled up into a backpack. No organization feels pressure and anxiety. Ask others all the time to copy their answers, and cheat on tests.

"Procrastinating is when you don't do things that you need to get done."

Why we procrastinate

People will often procrastinate because they have multiple things to do and it seems to be overwhelming or like they can't do everything. Some people may see things as too hard, not fun, boring, or stressful. When you don't feel like you can do something it can make you feel bad about yourself or even feel low about yourself but it's all in your mind. Remember the truth, you have the mind of Christ and you can do all things through Christ who strengthens you.

1 Corinthians 2:16, Philippians 4:13.

WHAT THE BIBLE SAYS ABOUT PROCRASTINATING:

"The soul of a sluggard craves and gets nothing, while the soul of the diligent is richly supplied."

Proverbs 13:4

Ways to stop procrastinating:

1. Make a list of your assignments, projects, and test for each class.

Habakkuk 2:2

- Set deadlines and put what's due 1st, 2nd, 3rd, etc...
- This helps get everything out of your head on paper and lowers the pressure and nervous feeling you get.

2. Put everything on a planner or calendar.

1 Corinthians 14:40.

- Check it daily to keep up with work.
- This will help organize everything and you have a visual of what to do.

3. Create a schedule for each assignment.

Luke 14:28

- Get started on assignments, projects, or studies right away
- Do a little bit each day this helps keep information stored in your mind so you are ready for that test and get your work done a lot sooner

4. Take frequent breaks.

Matthew 11:28-30

- Take a 5-10 min break after 30-45 min of doing your work or studies
- This will help you stay focused, get less tired, and not get distracted and stop doing your work.

5. Reward yourself.

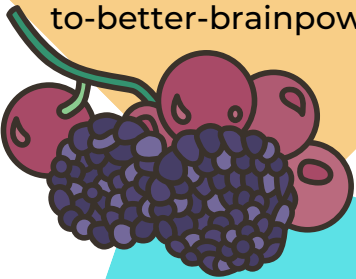

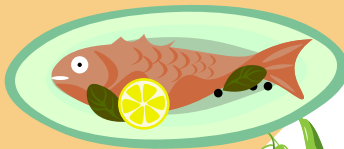

Galatians 6:9

- Get your favorite snacks and enjoy once you finish!!
- Find a hobby you like: games, sports, art, music, cooking, and have fun!!!

Did you know?

There is a food you can eat that will help your brain think, like berries, green vegetables, nuts, fish, beans, and olive oil?

Family fun project:

Each person in the family can create a vision board.

Supplies needed:

1. Pen and paper
 2. Boards
 3. Collection of pictures (i.e. pictures from the internet or your phone) and magazines (find places that are getting rid of old magazines)
 4. Glue or tape
 5. Scissors
 6. Markers, crayons, or colored pencils
- Optional: glitter, string, ribbon, small objects (i.e. buttons), Elmer's glue, etc...Go crazy!

Arts and Craft stores: Walmart, Walgreens, Joann's fabrics, Hobby Lobby, Amazon, Target, and local grocery stores.

Directions:

1. Write out what your vision is for your education, business, dream job, or what you want to do in life.
2. Write short sentences of your vision and organize it the way you want on your board.
3. Cut out pictures and glue them on your board that show what your vision looks like.
4. Decorate and have fun with it to make it the way you like.
5. Do a presentation of your board to the family for 5 min and when you are done, hang it on your wall!

MEN'S DEN

THE DEVIL HAS NO IMAGINATION.

2 CORINTHIANS

"Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ"

10:5

The devil is limited because he has no imagination, but we do.

YOU HAVE MORE POWER THAN THE DEVIL

Satan is the prince of darkness (prince means the first and darkness means ignorance). He is the first to be ignorant. This is why the devil gives you evil thoughts so that you can start imagining evil. The devil helps you remember your past hurts. When you think evil, you start to imagine things that are evil.

Genesis 11:6 And the Lord said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do.

Their desire to build the tower was their imagination, not demons or the devil.
